JANUARY 2021

Connectivity Snapshot

INDUSTRY INSIGHTS - LATEST NEWS

New Year, new me, same progress in connectivity

Where some industries stalled in 2020, the world of Connectivity was not one of them. From the various collaborations, successful trials, announcements and more throughout the final month of the year it shows an industry on the up!

January is expected to be just as big a month, particularly with more and more Open RAN tests and launches expected to be announced.

While in most countries globally there are some sort of movement restrictions, the appetite for being and staying connected, at an appropriate speed!, is growing.

At neuco, we cannot wait for what 2021 has to bring!
