Privado Launches AI Agents for Privacy Assessments

Privado.ai has rolled out “Agentic Assessments” and a “Dynamic Data Map” solution that allow privacy teams to eliminate lengthy questionnaires and static approaches.

By automatically populating privacy assessments from documents and contracts, and by scanning runtime software and third party apps for data flows, the company enables fully automated and auditable privacy compliance in hours instead of weeks.

Sentra & Miggo Launch Industry First ADR DSPM Integration

Miggo and Sentra have introduced what they describe as the first of its kind integration of runtime application detection/response (ADR) with data security posture management (DSPM).

By correlating application behaviour with data sensitivity, the solution provides unified business context visibility and enables security teams to prioritise vulnerabilities based on actual data exposure rather than generic risk scores.
